

International Recognition and Career Prospect

表達藝術治療認證及職業前景

Expressive Arts Therapy has been growing in Hong Kong for the past ten years. There is an increasing awareness in society of the positive roles that the expressive arts therapist can play in education, social welfare, community welfare, community organising and the attainment of wellness and healthiness in body, mind and spirit. Graduates from the master programme will be able to work as an expressive art therapist, or integrate their knowledge into their original work setting.

Recently, many welfare agencies have one way or the other engaged arts therapies in their service. One of the leading organisations, Centre for Community Cultural Development (CCCD), has launched more than twenty projects using different art modalities:

CCCD on-going creative arts therapy project 2015-2016:

South China Morning Post - Operation Santa Claus: Stroke Choir

Marden Foundation Project - SEN Parents Art Therapy Group(1 year)

S.K.YEE Fund - Kwai Chung Hospital Arts Therapy Project for out-patients (2 years)

Swire Trust - Dance Therapy Group for special schools

Zonta Club - art therapy workshop for victims of domestic violence

Graduates(qualified with the title of Expressive Arts Therapist) can collaborate with CCCD in future projects or work in the arts therapy team in CCCD Creative Arts Therapy Services Centre.

After fulfilling 1000 practicum hours and 100 supervision hours, graduates can apply for the registration at IEATA (<http://www.ieata.org/>).
